2021 ANNUAL REPORT

A bounce back year

Dear participants, supporters, and community stakeholders,

2021 was a bounce back year for helping people with low or no income find and keep a family wage job. In 2020, we assisted 15 people with our job mentoring program. In 2021, we assisted 24 people, a significant growth for our services.

While the employment market continues to change and adjust to our current economy, Hunger For Success is able to provide 21st century solutions to help those in need re-enter the workforce.

As we celebrate our seventh year of service, we want to thank all of those individuals and foundation who have supported our mission throughout the years. Your support has allowed our services to continue during a time where other services were not available during the pandemic. This report will summarize our performance for 2021 and how we will work to improve our services to the communities we serve.

At your service,

Brad Lebowsky
President and Chair

“ Hunger for Success has been a light for me in some pretty trying times.”
